Work Department For County Given Approval By Board

The Nevada County Board of Supervisors Tuesday adopted an ordiance creating a public works department to be headed by a registered civil engineer.

The establishment of the department was recommended in the annual report of the grand jury. The recommendation had been made several times in recent years but never followed.

Under terms of the ordinance, an engineer at a salary of from $1200 to $1500 a month and the office of the road commissioner, now held by Robert Graham, will become the county superintendent of roads at no increase in salary.

The grand jury report stated that the recommendations were not to be construed as criticism of Graham but rather the updating of an antiquated system.

While the first duty of the engineer will be to supervise public road construction in the county, the duties will be broadened to embrace all building in the county, Supervisor H. G. Loehr of Truckee explained.

Chamber Seeking More Deputies To Fill Local Needs

The Truckee-Donner Chamber of Commerce meeting at Donner Summit Lodge yesterday, unanimously passed a resolution directed to Sheriff Wayne Brown and the Nevada County Board of Supervisors requesting that the local squad be brought up to full strength.

This would mean at least four extra deputies to maintain jail facilities 24 hours a day and a replacement for deputies who resign.

Supervisor H. G. Loehr said that he was advised that the sheriff's budget contained a request for six more deputies, four for Truckee and two for the west end of the county, but that the board has not yet acted upon the sheriff's budget. He added that he would support the request for more local men and would not oppose a salary increase providing such a request was made.

N. F. Dolley presided at yesterday's meeting. The next meeting will be held at Donner Lake Lodge June 9.

At the present time the eastern end of the county has only a sergeant and three officers. This makes it virtually impossible to have a man at the jail at all times to care for prisoners or keep radio and teletype communications.

The wreckage of a four-passenger plane and the bodies of its three occupants, Robert Baker, 58, his wife, Margaret and daughter, Karen, 15, were found Sunday morning about 10 a. m. in an isolated area about three miles east of Colfax.

They had attended a furniture mart in San Francisco and were en route home in stormy weather and residents of Colfax reported hearing the plane flying low as it went over the town apparently in trouble.

Baker was well known in Truckee where he frequently attended meetings of the Lions Club. He had been an active member of the Sparks Club for more than 30 years and held a record attendance mark.

Members of the Truckee-Tahoe CAA engaged in the search Sunday under the direction of the commander, Robert Moist of Squaw Valley. Of great interest to many local people is the recently published "Gentle Wilderness, The Sierra Nevada", a publication of the Sierra Club. It is a handsome volume which uses the stirring text of John Muir and beautiful photographs of Richard Kauffman and is edited and prefaced with many perceptive thoughts by the executive director of the Sierra Club, David R. Brower. A portion of Brower's text reminds us "the purpose of this book is to remind everyone we can that neither California nor the rest of America is rich enough to lose any more of the Gentle Wilderness, nor poor enough to need to."

Brower last month received the Carey-Thomas award for distinguished achievement in book publishing for his work on the book. This award is given annually by Publisher's Weekly and this is the first time a Western publisher ever received the award.

CHP WARNS ON HOLIDAY DRIVE

"Death is a subject most of us don't like to talk about very often. This weekend it will be on your mind when you are in your car, as well, because the sad truth is, far too many drivers and passengers will qualify for graves before the holiday is over."

This was the somber holiday message of California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden, as he laid the responsibility for the Memorial Day traffic accident record squarely on drivers.

"That record—good or bad—will depend on whether California's drivers understand and accept the necessity for sane and sensible practices behind the wheel.

"If their choice is to convert our streets and highways into jungles, where survival of the fittest is the rule, funeral processions will be seen many times following our holiday weekend.

"As always, highway patrol officers will be on the roads in holiday force, with orders to take enforcement action against traffic law violators. At best, however, they will be spread pretty thin in the face of anticipated traffic volumes.

"That is why I ask you to contemplate death as you drive, though you may consider this morbid. Perhaps it is. But maybe it will cause smug or careless drivers to face up to reality now—before it's too late."

The 78-hour Memorial Day holiday begins at 6 p. m. Friday, May 28, and extends until midnight, Monday, May 31.

Jon Hooper, son of Harry and Ceta Hooper of Reno, celebrated his 16th birthday May 24 in Washoe Medical Center. We use the word celebrate rather loosely perhaps since a grim accident was the result of his incarceration.

The Explorer Scout Post No. 3, sponsored by the Latter Day Saints Church in Reno, of which Jon is a member, were on an exploration trip to Upper Price Lake. The troop split into two groups with one leaving from Mt. Rose Summit and the other from Bowers Mansion. Jon was with the group leaving from Mt. Rose Summit.

On Ophir Creek, about one mile above the lake, he slipped on the snow pack and tumbled down an incline into the creek striking his head on a rock. He was pulled to dry land and given first aid.

The Jeep Patrol of the Civil Air Patrol was alerted and sent to the scene. However, they were able to drive only to within a mile of where the accident occurred and had to hike the remainder of the distance. Meanwhile Undersheriff Dick O'Boyle contacted the Western Air Rescue Center at Hamilton Air Force Base at Sacramento and a helicopter was authorized to join the rescue from Stead Air Force Base.

Col. Archer E. Lackey and Capt. George Kehuna and a doctor, Capt. Paul Knoop, took off from Stead and arrived at the scene at 8:40 p. m. After receiving first aid, Jon was taken to Washoe Medical Center in Reno.

Jon was conscious throughout the ordeal and according to his companions calmer than anyone else. Jon says he always wanted a helicopter ride and his picture on thef ront page so all he had to do was use his head.

Springtime in Reno makes one wonder why the chamber of commerce has missed publicizing its beauty. Although we have visited Reno for years never have we been here to enjoy lilac time. There are thousands of lilacs and this year they were especially gorgeous. Now hundreds of hawthorne trees replace the lilacs with their magnificance.

In three weeks Cal Neva reopens for the summer. What in the WORLD! by TED

Telling the U.N. Story

A fast-growing library of books dramatizing the United Nations' diversified work — and geared to all tastes and ages—has been published since the world organization was founded 20 years ago.

In the last 10 years alone, a single joint program linking the U.N. and commercial publishers has produced more than 100 books.

Eight new books produced under the joint program were presented to the U.N.'s Dag Hammarskjold Library at a recent ceremony attended by ambassadors, authors and publishers. The works included "The Story of International Cooperation"; "World of Promise," a guide to the U.N. Development Decade to raise living standards; "Vestpocket Handbook of the United Nations" and "Landmarks in International Cooperation."

Hundreds of other books are being published outside the joint program. These range from children's books to such new works as the Brookings Institute's scholarly "The United Nations Institute for Training and Research"; Praeger's "In Pursuit of World Order" by Richard N. Gardner, an American U.N. delegate; and Columbia University's "Quest for Peace," a series of lectures by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and other international figures.

For further information on the U. N., write to: United Nations Association of the U. S. A., 345 E. 46th St., New York, N. Y. 10017.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO — (CNS — Something of a milestone was passed in the current session of the California legislature, with the biennial demise of a bill to abolish capital punishment.

Despite the appearance of two internationally known persons in behalf of the bill, AB674-McMillan, and a constitutional amendment, ACA24-Henson, the hearing this year appeared to be more of a gesture than any real move to change the law.

The hearing was livened by the eloquence of Melvin Belli, San Francisco attorney, of Dallas trial fame, more recently in the headlines for gaining acquittal for some bare-bosomed waitresses. An impressive presentation was made by Erle Stanley Gardner, author of the Perry Mason books and founder of the court of last resort.

While Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan, D-Los Angeles, longtime standard bearer for the opponents of capital punishment, used well over two hours in presenting his case, the opposition used only five minutes.

The final voice vote on the bills, obviously prearranged, prevented onlookers from knowing exactly who voted which way but it was assumed both bills were killed by a 5-4 margin. Interestingly, while three Democratic liberal members of the committee quite openly voted in favor of McMillan's bill to abolish the death penalty, they also voted quite openly against a measure which would have put the old question up to a vote of the people.

Most of the witnesses favoring abolition of capital punishment admitted under questioning they doubted if the people would approve abolition if it ever came to a vote. Thus the unfavorable vote of the committee certainly was justified, if the members were to represent the people of the state.

The usual statistics were presented—some tending to show that capital punishment is a deterrent to murder; other tending to show that it is not.

One of the arguments presented by proponents of McMillan's bill opens up an interesting question. One witness said a sure indication of the public distaste for the taking of human lives was that so many prospective jurors were excused on grounds they did not believe in capital punishment.

Thus proponents of the bill claimed that all juries in capital cases were stacked against the defendant because all members of these juries had to believe in capital punishment, while such sentiments were by no means unanimous in society itself.

It should be noted, however, that the death sentence under certain circumstances is provided for in the law. Thus the juror who is excused on grounds he does not favor capital punishment actually in being excused on grounds he does not believe in carrying out certain provisions of the law.

This might be likened to a prospective jurior's being excused from a panel trying an abortion case if this person felt abortion was morally justified.

The McMillan bill was a straight bill—no compromises. In the many times the subject has come before the legislature in the past, it sometimes has been in the form of a proposed two-year moratorium on executions. At other times, it would have abolished capital punishment except in certain type crimes, such as a second murder, killing of a law officer, or killling of a prison guard.

These exceptions in the past have indicated a certain hesitancy on the part of even the most vocal opponents of capital punishment to abolish it. Others seeking abolition have sometimes had an abrupt change of heart when a particularly vicious crime occurred in their area.

EXPANSION PLANNED AT SIERRA COLLEGE

In the coming fall and spring semesters of 1965-66, Sierra College will undergo much expansion and will have many improvements. Included in the added features of the college will be a larger faculty, an increased number of students, new and expanded buildings, stricter academic regulations, remodeled classrooms, and new additional courses, reported college President, Harold Weaver.

According to Martin Tayor, registrar, the expected minimum number of students for the fall semester is 1,700 compared to the present 1,487. The evening classes are increasing at an even faster rate with an expected attendance next semester of over 1,000 students compared to the 690 this semester.

DONNER DOINGS . . .

By Vi White

At last the Sierra Pacific Power Company has finally closed the gates of Donner Creek, so the water level is rising a few inches every day. The heavy snow pack and expected spring rains was the cause for the delay.

We're still getting frost in the mornings and a little snow fell up on the summit over the weekend, but from the looks of things the coming three day Memorial weekend should be nice.

The piles of junk have been picked up along the hiway and the area looks a lot neater. It's amazing how much stuff accumulates during the year. Twenty truck loads were hauled to the dumps. Thanks fellows.

State plows cleared the old summit road of snow and opened it to traffic last Saturday. Now those who live at Soda Springs and Norden are happy to be able to take the shorter route again. Hope some of the tourists use the scenic drive again.

Dogwood trees and bleeding heart plants are in full bloom along highway 20 to Nevada City and near Baxter on the freeway. A beautiful sight. It's worth the trip just to see the lush green foliage too.

It certainly has been wonderful having our son Charlie home for a few days after his army basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana. He left by jet this morning for Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, for five months of electronics school. He visited friends and relatives in the bay area and enjoyed being home again.

Skiers, two races will be held this weekend. May 29, a giant slalom at Mammoth Mountain for men and women in classes, A, B, C and Veterans. Squaw Valley will hold a giant slalom the following day, May 30. Still plenty of snow.

Don't forget gals, the Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary will be meeting tonight at the Alpine Riverside Hotel in Truckee. You'll have a chance to cook your own steaks on their huge broiler if you want to. Please attend. Plans for the coming rummage and white elephant sale to be held June 10 will be discussed.

Truckee men won the tournament at the Nevada County Country Club Golf Course. The Grass Valley women won. It was certainly a gorgeous day! Just enough breeze to keep it balmy. After the thunder storm of the day before, it seemed impossible that there would be any golfing on Sunday.

Individual honors went to Mike Popovich (also for the longest drive) Ange Besio, John Waller, Bob Leamon and Bob Moore.

Our top ladies were Georgianna King, Norma Russell, Vina Clepper, Eva Besio and Barbara Zorich. Congratulations to all of you winners.

There were 23 men and 15 ladies entered from here. A very good turnout for a most pleasant affair. Weren't the steaks tops! When we have the return match we should make a concerted effort to have everything run as smoothly.

A group of weekenders at Grass Valley were Margaret and Jim Walker, Mike and Jack Ellis, Georgianna and Ben R. King, Maggie and Andy Creglow, (Maggie is an enthusiastic golfer) and Tina and Bob Bowers of Reno.

Hazel Stewart phoned the other evening to say that the Ponderosa IS open and playable. They are requesting that you do not putt. They have reseeded the greens and are nursing them into shape, so if everyone will be patient for a week or ten days then the grass should be strong enough. If you chip your ball up on the green, just walk up and pick it up. If anyone has any questions concerning the course, why not call Alex or Hazel, or go take a look-see for yourself.

Virginia and Dick Paddock came all the way from the bay area to join the group. Good to see them.

A Reno visitor June 1 and 2 will be Miss Sally Tuttle of San Francisco whose profession is the demonstration, to housewives, of the use of small appliances.

Miss Tuttle, a field representative for the John Oster Manufacturing Co., will be featured speaker at a Brides' and Wives' School in Reno.

The visitor's Reno presentation is backed by ten years of 4-H work and two years as a 4-H leader. Prior to joining the Oster company she was in radio, both on and off the air. On the air she conducted a daily 15-minute show of interest to women, recipes, household hints and interviews.

The Brides' and Wives' School at the Centennial Coliseum is sponsored jointly by the Washoe County Extension Service and Sierra Pacific Power Co. Admission is free, by ticket obtainable through the sponsors.

Fletcher Named To Head Bank Board

Fred L. Fletcher was Friday elected chairman of the board of the Nevada Bank of Commerce. He will immediately assume duties as chief executive officer. The announcement follows a recent award as "civic leader of the year" and elevation to the position of chairman of the board of Sierra Pacific Power Company.

A native of Nevada, Fletcher's family has been prominent in the growth of this state for 106 years. Born in Virginia City, he was graduated from the University of Nevada. After serving in various capacities in the utility industry in the midwest he returned to Reno in 1960 and assumed the presidency of Sierra Pacific Power Company in February of 1961, where he introduced modern electric generation and brought natural gas to northern Nevada.

He is a director of the Reno Chamber of Commerce, trustee of the Lake Tahoe Area Council, member of the California-Nevada Interstate Compact Commission, vice president of Hidden Valley Country Club, director of Prospector's Club, National Trustee of Ducks Unlimited, Inc., and a member of the Reno Press Club.

Fletcher stated that he would resign as board chairman of Sierra Pacific Power Company in order to devote the major portion of his efforts to bank affairs.

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — The state division of real estate reported a sharp increase in subdivision filings during March—a total of 309, as compared with 238 in the same month of 1964.

The division said March filings were up 54.5 per cent over those in February, indicating a possible improvement in the residential building activity picture.

The division said complaints based on activities and representations of licenses or subdividers or qualifications of license applicants also were up for the month. During March, there were 752 such complaints, compared to 621 in March, 1964.

Boy's Suggestion To Curb Fires Gets Legislative Action

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — A bill tightening state control over throwing lighted cigarettes or material along state highways has moved to Governor Edmund G. Brown for his signature—and all because of a letter from an 11-year-old Concord boy.

The bill is AB423 by Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie, D-Antioch, and it would add to the present prohibition against throwing lighted materials on highways a prohibition against throwing them on areas adjoining the highways.

Waldie said he introduced the bill after receiving a short letter from Paul Buzzo, the Concord boy, asking that the law be made more specific. The bill passed the assembly and, when it arrived in the senate, was amended by Senator Luther E. Gibson, D-Vallejo.

Gibson's amendment provides the act shall be known as the "Paul Buzzo Act." The assembly concurred in Senator Gibson's amendment.

Tahoe Chamber Asks Rule Change

TAHOE CITY — At their last meeting, the directors of the North Tahoe Chamber of Commerce endorsed a recommendation made by the South Shore Chamber urging that an amendment be adopted to the state vehicle code concerning the use of skid chains and snow tires.

It was felt that the present application of Section 27459 permitting chains only under certain conditions is not in the best interest of either the traveler or the economy of the area where the section applies.

It is the opinion that the simple phrase "chains or snow tires" made to apply to all vehicles subject to the endorsement of this section would best serve the safety and convenience of all concerned.

FARM VISIT PROVIDES INTEREST FOR CLASS

A visit to the farm of Rico Quilici of Verdi was enjoyed this week by the Nursery School children and their mothers. Quilici showed the group many interesting points of living on a farm and then treated each child to a ride on his horse. After the farm visit, the group journeyed to Reno where they enjoyed a picnic lunch in Idlewild Park.

The many different birds of the Truckee area has also been of great interest to the children. They took many short walks to observe the different birds and then returned to the room where each child added another picture to a bird book he made.

The executive board of the newly organized North Lake Tahoe Nursery School recently visited the school to observe room procedure.

Birthday parties honorin Rodger Hisken and David Bollin have also added to the excitement of the week.

ARNOLD INDERBITZEN BACK FROM EUROPE

Arnold Inderbitzen, former operator of the Swiss Club in Truckee, recently returned from a winter vacation trip to Europe where he visited relatives and friends in Switzerland. He reported countries he visited appeared prosperous and busy and compared the visit with one he made shortly after the war when desolation was apparent.

While in his native Switzerland, Inderbitzen said he was surprised one morning to find a picture of Truckee, taken during a severe snowstorm last winter, on the front page of the local newspaper.

The trip was made by train and boat and the traveler reported a most enjoyable journey. His immediate plans are indefinite but he plans to settle in this area.

Beginning on July 4 and ending September 5, there will be additional services at 8 a .m. for worship. Eleanore Swanson, who recently celebrated her birth date, cheerfully wrote that she may be discharged from Washoe Medical Center this week, if present progress continues in the healing treatment for a leg injury, after a prolonged stay in the hospital.

Swanee continued that mail will reach her at 891 Casazza Drive, Reno. She wishes to thank her many cherished friends and former neighbors in the Tahoe-Truckee area who have been so kind in sending gifts, lovely cards and letters during her hospitalization.

ANCIENT DOG LOST IN TRUCKEE FOUND

The blind and deaf dog of Mr. and Mrs. John Rablin of Roseville is safely at home again after it was found in the Donner Trails area by Mrs. L. B. Free who recognized it from the description printed in the Sierra Sun and restored it to the anxious owners.

It is believed that someone picked up the animal after it wandered out of the family yard and then left it to shift for itself on discovering its failing faculties.

All the members of the Rablin family are grateful for their pet's safe return as it has been with them for the past 15 years.

Personal Injury Is Basis For Action

AUBURN—A $50,000 personal injury suit was filed here this week as the result of a head-on traffic collision on Highway 89 near Lake Tahoe last January 30.

The action was filed by Nathan L. Topol and the Douglas Lumber Company against John Francis McNulty, George E. Cooper and two Does.

Topol, an employee of the lumber firm, claimed the jeep he was driving was struck by a car driven by McNulty and owned by Cooper.

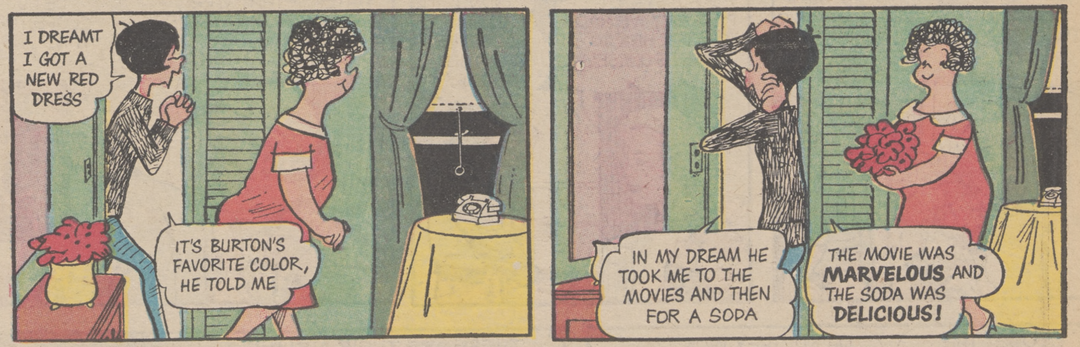
BURTON HAS BLUE EYES
BURTON IS SO THOUGHTFUL
BURTON IS SO NICE
BURTON IS WONDERFUL
I DREAM ABOUT BURTON EVERY NIGHT!
THAT WAS BURTON ON THE PHONE!
ISN'T IT STRANGE ??
I DREAMT HE PHONED ME FOR A DATE



I DREAMT I GOT A NEW RED DRESS
IT'S BURTON'S FAVORITE COLOR, HE TOLD ME
IN MY DREAM HE TOOK ME TO THE MOVIES AND THEN FOR A SODA
THE MOVIE WAS MARVELOUS AND THE SODA WAS DELICIOUS!

THEN WE SAT IN HIS CAR AND TALKED ABOUT EVERYTHING
WE HAD SO MUCH TO TALK ABOUT AND THE MOON WAS OUT AND IT WAS SO ROMANTIC
IT IS STRANGE! WHEN HE PHONED DID HE REALLY ASK YOU FOR A DATE?
WELL, ER, NO...
HE JUST WANTED TO KNOW WHAT OUR HISTORY ASSIGNMENT IS FOR TOMORROW!
